HAPPY CAMP

March 17, 2013

HeloAir is pleased to announce that they will be opening up a second western base frontier. We have been awarded a five year contract to provide initial attack, fire suppression, and prescribed burning for the Klamath National Forest in Happy Camp California from June to September through 2017. HeloAir president Whit Baldwin, "This is a continuation of the relationship between HeloAir and the United States Forest Service. We are delighted to have won the award as it represents an expansion of our presence out west.
